

Cuts May Curtail U.S. Mail Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General John A. Gronouski says "we'll have to pull in our belt" on postal service unless some of the House-voted cut in postal funds is restored.

He said in an interview today he was "shocked and awfully disappointed" that the House had slashed $69 million from his budget.

If the Senate doesn't come up with a healthy restoration, he said, "We'll have to pull in our belt somewhere, and with mail volume rising as it is, that's got to affect service."

"Something will have to give. I'll try to do it in the most inoffensive way possible — but if you don't have the money you have to look for a way to cut costs. This has an effect on service; you just can't be too gentle about it."

The House Appropriations Committee made the cut last week in approving a postal budget of $5,313,400,000. The full House endorsed the package Monday.

"I'm afraid I didn't make my point to the House committee well enough," Gronouski said. "I'm going to have to do better with the Senate next week."

Gronouski and other top postal officials expressed bafflement that the cut — most of which came under postal operations — could be made when congressional criticism of postal efficiency and morale is running so high.

It was a $9-million budget cut, an aide said, that caused Gronouski to curtail window and parcel post service last year, losing an avalanche of public and congressional criticism.

"My problem is that I went in there with a budget pared to the bone," the stocky former Wisconsin tax official said. "The President insists that's the way we do it. It isn't like 10 years ago, when the Post Office Department went up there with a big fat budget to give the congressmen something to cut."

Gronouski wanted to hire 15,000 new workers to counter an overtime problem that has employees working 60-hour and 70-hour weeks.

The committee last week cut the number to 1,300, and thereby trimmed $10 million from the budget.

Indians Accept U.S. Food But Don't Like It

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Indians are eating on the American cuff these days and many don't like it.

Despite India's severe food shortages and admitted inability to feed itself, the Indian government is under attack for seeking two more years of massive imports of U.S. wheat amounting to 20,000 tons a day.

India is heavily dependent on supplies of American grain under the Food for Peace Program. American experts don't expect this nation of 480 million will be any closer to self-sufficiency in food 10 years from now.

Yet the strange controversy rages in Parliament, the press and the market place over whether to go on accepting food aid from the United States.

Some leading figures in Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's ruling Congress party have joined the onslaught. Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, sister of the late Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, has said:

"If we wait for the next food crisis and the great ships sailing to bring relief to us, we shall be a broken people."

Mrs. Pandit's fears of a "broken people" focus on a major argument against U.S. food assistance: that Indians may be lulled into a dependent attitude, a false security, and not try hard enough to solve the food dilemma by boosting their own farm output.

Other critical themes are that such giant doses of American aid endanger India's nonalignment, and that buying U.S. wheat for Indian rupees gives Washington a potent lever on the nation. The United States now possesses half the rupees in circulation.

Senate Committee Starts Hearings On Air Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate public works subcommittee starts hearings today on legislation designed to curb air pollution.

One controversial step would require equipment on new automobiles manufactured in or imported into the United States to have equipment to reduce the discharge of polluting fumes.

The subcommittee announced plans to fly to Detroit Wednesday to hear testimony from spokesmen for the automotive industry in connection with that proposal. The group is to return to Washington for more hearings Thursday.

Tax Exemption Bill Goes To Governor

More To Come If Legislation Receives Veto

LANSING (AP)—The legislature's $13.5 million senior citizens' property tax exemption bill heads today toward Gov. George Romney's desk with a warning from Senate Democratic Leader Raymond Dzendzel that more like it will follow if Romney vetoes the measure.

The House and Senate reaffirmed their support of the bill Monday night. The House was to order it enrolled today and sent to Romney for his consideration. It will probably arrive Friday.

Report Criticized

The Republican governor, irritated because the Democratic-controlled legislature passed its plan without waiting for a citizens' committee report, indicated Friday he might veto the bill.

"If he does, we'll pass another one just about exactly like the first," said Dzendzel. "We can pass them all year if he wants to keep vetoing."

Dzendzel criticized the citizens' committee plan as one that "covers a lot of people, costs a lot of money gives nobody much."

The legislative plan forgives property taxes on the first $2,500 of assessed valuation on households assessed at less than $10,000 and owned by persons 65 years or older who earn less than $5,000 annually and have lived in Michigan for seven years.

Delay Voted Down

The committee report would forgive taxes on a declining scale of assessment ranging from $2,500 for houses assessed at $3,000 or less to $250 for houses assessed at $7,500. No income test is included. Another provision grants payments to renters.

The Senate Monday night accepted the bill as reported out by a House-Senate conference committee. This vote was a formality since the committee, in working out Senate-House differences, took the exact wording of the Senate version of the bill.

Sen. Garry Brown, R-Schoolcraft, tried to delay the measure for one more day but Democrats outmaneuvered him in parliamentary infighting. Brown was the only Senate foe of the bill.

The House defeated, 74-23, a move by Rep. Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, minority leader, to reconsider the vote by which the conference committee report was adopted last Friday.

AIMED AT TRAINS

LANSING (AP) — The House of Representatives passed and sent to the Senate Monday night a bill to extend state control over passenger train scheduling and to tighten restrictions on the discontinuance of service.

The measure, although aimed at preventing the curtailment of Chesapeake & Ohio passenger service between Detroit and Grand Rapids, was stiffened as the direct result of the curtailments of New York Central Railroad passenger service on its New York - Chicago run through Michigan.

New York Central cut out trains 39 and 40 over the weekend with about 24 hours notice and with no explanation.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Harold Clark, D-Warren, was passed 89-5 and given immediate effect.

A few hours after a sharp attack from Peter Spivak, chairman of the State Public Service Commission, Rep. Alfred Sheridan, D-Taylor, withdrew an amendment which would have allowed the exemption of passenger scheduling from PS control to continue.

Sheridan labeled the NYC action an "underhanded tactic which jeopardizes the rights and services of the traveling public."

Gaylord Plant Opening Delayed

GAYLORD (AP) — Monday's scheduled opening of the U.S. Plywood plant here was postponed until Friday. The $5.5 million operation will be northwestern Michigan's newest industry and expects to employ some 175 workers.

PUNCHING HER WAY through two-foot solid ice, the cutter Mesquite approaches the Chicago & North Western ore dock, with the ore carrier E. T. Weir following. The Weir loaded 15,600 tons of pellet ore to open the 1965 ore shipping season on the Great Lakes. (Daily Press Photo)

First Ore Boat Docks; Chamber Greets Skipper

Ore boats and April showers made their appearance south of Escanaba early last night. By midnight the Mackinaw was off Sand Point.

Today the cutters worked their way back and forth through the ice, breaking channels for the ore boats to move closer to the big dock. The Weir was the first to dock, after considerable assistance from the Mackinaw.

The Carnahan will load 16,600 tons of pellet ore and will clear for Detroit.

Goal 6 1/2 Million

The first boats will be followed by the arrival of the Sykes, which is expected here this afternoon, and the L. E. Block, which cleared for Escanaba last night. Both are Inland Steel boats out of Indian Harbor.

The Coast Guard's Mesquite will take on board the crew for the Minneapolis Shoal light station and put that light in operation by tonight.

The prospect for the 1965 ore shipping season is good at Escanaba, said L. A. McMillan, C&NW dock agent.

"We expect to equal or exceed last year's shipments of 6,497,380 tons," McMillan declared.

Pellet ore is arriving at Escanaba from the Groveland plant near Randville on the Menominee Range and from the Empire plant at Palmer on the Marquette Range. Only pellet ore is being loaded presently. There is a large supply of regular ore, frozen in the cars, still in the North Western yards from last year.

Last year the first ore boat to dock at Escanaba was Glenegles at 11:45 a. m., on April 3.

Gasoline Famine

Little Bay de Noc petroleum products terminals were waiting for the Coast Guard to clear ice from the bay and permit the first tankers of the year to dock and end the worst gasoline and heating oil shortage at the terminals in many years.

The terminals are always low on storage when navigation opens, but the condition is acute this year, with supplies very low and under ration in some terminals.

Standard Oil expected its first tanker last Saturday and the Amaco Wisconsin has been waiting at Whiting, Ind., with a split cargo of gasoline and fuel oil since then for word from Robert Haack, terminal manager here, that the harbor is open. The Amaco Illinois is also to bring a load of jet fuel to the Wade Corp. terminal as soon as navigation is open.

The terminals were all operating at this time last year. The Mackinaw broke ice here March 11 and 12 and the Mesquite on March 15. The Mackinaw returned on March 27. The bay was open to Sand Point March 25 and to the ore dock on March 27. This year the Mackinaw arrived today, April 6, twenty-six days later than in 1964.

ANOTHER BODY

UTICA (AP) — The partially clad body of a 29-year-old woman was found by a reader grader operator Monday in a likely field northwest of this Macomb County community.

Police identified the body through fingerprints as that of Raven Shilling, born in Houston, Texas. Officers said her last known address was in Cincinnati.

The body, clad in stretch snow boots and nude from the waist up. An undergarment had been knotted around her neck.

Police said the woman had been stabbed in the chest and her body had been beaten. Richard Cyril, chief assistant Macomb County prosecutor, said there were marks on the victim's wrists as though her hands had been tied.

Police theorized she had been killed before her body was dumped along a deserted stretch of Hayes Road about a quarter mile north of Twenty-third Mile Road in Macomb.

The body was found Monday afternoon by a county road grader operator, Leo Malburg, 41 of Sterling Township. Malburg was grading Hayes Road when he spotted the body lying about 50 feet of the road, police said.

Deputy Macomb County Coroner Dr. Charles Lapp said death had occurred not more than five hours before the body was found.

Schirra Chosen For Space Feat

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. hitched his career star to a space satellite and now his wish has come true.

Schirra, a Navy commander, 42, and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford, 34, were named the primary crew Monday for this country's first attempt to link up two full-size vehicles in space.

Air Force Maj. Virgil I. Grisom and Navy Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young were chosen backup crew for the flight, the fourth manned mission in the Gemini program. It is expected before Christmas.

This was a flip-flop arrangement of the first manned Gemini crew, for which Grisom and Young were primary crewmen, Schirra and Stafford the backup duo. That mission was completed March 23.

Schirra had said if he couldn't be first to fly in the two-man program, then he wanted to do something nobody else had done — join up in the space the Gemini spacecraft and an unmanned Agena rocket.

The procedure will be necessary for a landing on the moon and also for the trip back to earth after lunar exploration.

Rescuer Dies After Saving 4 In Cave Flood

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark. (AP) — The first sight of a skin diver bobbing to the surface didn't surprise any of the spelunkers trapped in flooded Rowland Cave, says Hugh Shell. "But we hadn't anticipated the diver suggesting we put on some skin diving gear and go back out with him under the water," said Shell in an interview Monday several hours after the tragedy-marred rescue.

"We thought he'd bring in supplies and we'd wait for the water to fall."

Skin divers led Shell, 40, of Batesville, Ark., and three college students, one at a time, through the 200 feet of murky water to safety outside the cave. Shell and the other spelunkers — Hogan Biedsoe, 20, of Lake Village, Ark., and Steve Wilson, 20, of Batesville, students at Arkansas Tech, and Mike Hill, 19, of Batesville, a student at Arkansas College — came through their more than 36 hours in the cave showing no ill effects.

One of the divers collapsed at the mouth of the cave and died after helping out the last of the four explorers. He was chief damage controlman Lyle E. Thomas, 39, one of three Navy divers flown in from Washington to help the rescue effort. Dr. T. J. Burton, Stone County coroner, attributed Thomas' death to a heart attack.

The spelunkers entered the cave in this Ozark foothills country early Saturday night. "We were on our way out on Sunday morning when we came upon the water and we knew we were trapped," Shell said.

"But none of us was ever worried. We had provisions for four days and we figured we could wait for the water to go down."

The spelunkers waited in a cavernous area known as the Cathedral Room — the last room in the developed area of the cave, a onetime tourist attraction.

Then, Sunday afternoon a string of lights went on which extended from the mouth of the cave to the Cathedral Room 900 feet inside.

Wrapping a pocketknife in plastic insulation, the spelunkers scraped a portion of electrical line bare and — shorting the circuit — started transmitting periodic S-O-S signals.

Monday — almost 24 hours after the first S-O-S — a skin diver broke the surface of the water.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — More than 120 Communist Viet Cong were killed and six Americans were dead or missing today in one of the bloodiest engagements in the Mekong delta in months, U.S. officials said.

Initial reports indicated that South Vietnamese government forces suffered more than 60 casualties, including about 16 killed.

The confirmed American dead were a U.S. Army officer and a U.S. Navy officer. Their deaths brought to 323 the number of Americans killed in combat in South Viet Nam since December 1961.

Four U.S. Army helicopter crewmen were missing and believed dead. Their aircraft was hit by 50-caliber Viet Cong machine-gun fire and exploded in air.

The helicopter had been providing cover for a downed Vietnamese air force fighter-bomber.

A second U.S. Army helicopter was shot down while covering the same crash. Its four crewmen were rescued and were reported only slightly injured.

Heavy fighting was reported still in progress. The scene was the Ca Mau Peninsula, about 130 miles southwest of Saigon.

Prince Bernhard To Visit Michigan

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Prince Bernhard of The Netherlands will leave Wednesday for the United States at the invitation of the Economic Club of Detroit, it was announced here today.

His itinerary includes a ceremony at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor Friday when he will receive a honorary degree for civil law with a citation for his "excellent work in the field of international cooperation."

He will visit Holland, Mich., Saturday, to set in motion an old Dutch windmill, brought over from Holland, and to speak at Hope College.

Tips Checked, Police Hunt Michigan Madman Killer

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Jolted by southwest Michigan's multiple slaying with sex mania and mutilation as its trademark, police sought the killer's trail today in a stack of tips and leads.

Veteran officers found a lack of age pattern in the death of four female victims. Three had been sexually mutilated.

Equally varied was the range of tips to be chased down.

Found Sunday in the pine grove fringe of a Watervliet fruit orchard some ten miles east of here were the bodies of Diane Carter, 7, Mrs. Olin Boyer, 60, and Mrs. Robert Jones, 37.

They were preceded in death by 19-year-old Delores Young whose nude body—the only one not mutilated—was discovered here Feb. 16 in a home destroyed earlier by fire.

The little girl, the teenager and Mrs. Jones were Negroes. Mrs. Boyer was white.

"This is the first time we've had a sex madman on the loose here," said Benton Harbor Police Chief Merle McCarroll, recalling more than 22 years of police work in the city. He said he was convinced the teen-ager's death was linked to the three others.

Berrien County Sheriff Henry Griesse was co-ordinating the efforts of city, county and state police. He had hoped Monday for "the breaks" to bring a quick wrap-up. They failed to materialize.

One firm attraction for investigators, said Griesse, was the reported sighting last Friday of a green 1959 model four-door sedan speeding away from the pine grove.

Meanwhile, discovery of the bodies brought an upsurge in gun purchase permit requests from jittery citizens. Many parents escorted children to school and lit up switchboards with calls if any were but minutes tardy upon return after class.

GUN PERMITS SOUGHT

Berrien County Sheriff's men and city police reported "a rash" of requests for gun purchase permits following a series of sex-slayings here.

Many were from women in fear of the unknown killer.

Among them at the city police station here were Mrs. Henry Thomas and Mrs. Arby Jean Pittman, fellow employees at a motel.

"We work nights and we're scared," said Mrs. Thomas. Mrs. Pittman said she had "no protection at home" for her three children, ages 14, 12 and 9 years.

Both said they found supplies of small hand guns depleted Monday at two hardware stores here before they found a pair of .22 calibre pistols at a third store.

"They were the last two small guns in stock," the women said they were told. Mrs. Pittman's was an Italian-made automatic. Her companion displayed a revolver. The price tag read $30.65.

Police Captain Keith R. Mills cautioned both women against

'My Fair Lady' Movie Takes Eight Oscars

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — "My Fair Lady," like the Cockney flower girl whose story it tells, made good — winning eight Oscars at the 37th annual Motion Picture Academy Awards.

The show won the best-picture honor and was filmed entirely in Hollywood. But in other respects Academy voters were generous to foreigners: the four top acting awards at Monday night's ceremonies went to Europeans — three of them Britishers.

Among them was Rex Harrison, the rapid-fire, acid-tongued Professor Henry Higgins, who coached his flower girl Eliza Doolittle into such a fair lady she was mistaken for a princess.

Julie Top Actress

Top actress award went to Julie Andrews — the Eliza Doolittle of the stage but not the screen — for her role as the high-flying nanny in "Mary Poppins."

Two long shots, Britain's Peter Ustinov and France's Lila Kedrova, won the supporting performer Oscars.

For Harrison, the honor was the highest in a distinguished film career dating back to 1929.

For Miss Andrews, a bright and beautiful newcomer, it was sweet salve for not being chosen to do the screen version of "My Fair Lady."

She had costarred with Harrison on Broadway in the hit Lerner-Loewe musical, based on George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion."

But Warner Bros. chose Audrey Hepburn for the film role, in which she did not win a nomination.

Kissed By Harrison

Miss Hepburn, who flew here from Europe especially for the award ceremonies, presented the Oscar to Harrison. When she stepped onto the stage of the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium she received an ovation.

Harrison kissed her and they embraced. "This is a very exciting evening for me," said the 56-year-old Englishman. "I feel, in a way, I should split it in half."

Miss Andrews ran happily down the aisle to accept her award from 1963's best actor, Sidney Poitier.

"I know you Americans are famous for your hospitality, but this is ridiculous," she said.

The 29-year-old veteran of English vaudeville shows and music halls thanked "Mary Poppins" producer Walt Disney, as well as Americans everywhere, "for making me so welcome in this country."

Bob Hope Presides

Ustinov became one of the two-time Academy winners for his portrayal as the head of a burglary ring in "Topkapi," a comedy dealing with a bizarre jewel theft. The portly, mustache-brooded Ustinov, 43, London-born of Russian parents, did not come from London to accept the award — the second he has won for supporting actor. He re-

Achievement Day Concludes Active 4-H Club Winter

Delta County 4-H members and leaders ended the winter program and a busy month of local achievement programs Saturday with the annual Spring 4-H Achievement Day program at the Escanaba Area Junior High School.

About 700 4-H members participated, with handicraft, electrical, conservation and knitting projects attracting most interest.

Nearly every community in the county was represented, including Escanaba and Gladstone.

Saturday's program began at 9:15 a. m. with a candle lighting ceremony and continued with a style show, naming of the king and queen, award presentations and a talent show.

Rodney Lucas of Garden and Pauline Germain of Danforth were crowned 1965 King and Queen, respectively.

The eight talent winners during the afternoon program will represent Delta County in the 4-H district eliminations at Camp Shaw, Chatham, later this spring. Winning girls in dress and knitting reviews will enter their projects in competition at the U. P. State Fair in August, as will boys in handicraft and electrical divisions. Senior Miss girls (14 and older) who did not model in

Retreat Club Meets Wednesday

The Escanaba Deanery Retreat Club will hold a monthly meeting Wednesday, April 7, at 8 p. m. in the Club Room of St. Joseph's School. Cards of the players' choice will follow the meeting. Mrs. Marshall Dupie is chairman. She will be assisted by the Mesdames George Rusch, Richard Siebert, Anna Taylor, Howard Dishneau, Ben Shandonay, Margaret Gray and Merle Gregory. The next meeting will be held May 5, with Mrs. Alfred LaBranche, chairman.

Pastor Thorpe Leaves June 15

The Rev. Gordon Thorpe, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church of Escanaba for the past six years, today announced to members of his congregation in a church letter that he will leave June 15 to become senior pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Green Bay, Wis.

Rev. Thorpe told members of the local congregation that it had been a "thrilling and humbling experience to have been pastor of Immanuel congregation during these years when it has chosen to make so many bold and fatesome advances."

Leaders of the congregation are talking steps to find a successor to Rev. Thorpe.

He came here from his first pastorate at Barton Lutheran parish, a four-congregation parish, at Barton, North Dakota, where he served for four years after graduation from Augsburg Theological Seminary in Minneapolis. He was granted a Bachelor of Theology degree there in 1955 after having received his Bachelor of Arts, with a major in history, and minors in Greek and speech in 1952 from Augsburg.

Trinity Lutheran Church congregation will celebrate its 100th birthday in 1967 and it has 2,000 members. It has had three pastors on its staff. Two have resigned and Rev. Thorpe will serve with Pastor Eldon Skipsrud.

The Thorpes have three children, two of whom are in school in Escanaba and the family will not move to Green Bay until after the end of the school year.

Illness Is Fatal To Mrs. Cook, 75, Of Gould City

MANISTIQUE — Mrs. Frank (Mary) Cook, 75, of Gould City died at 4 p. m. Monday in St. Francis Hospital, Escanaba, where she had been a patient for one week.

Mrs. Cook was born in Ontario, Canada, Oct. 25, 1889. She is the former Mary Gharrett and had lived in Gould City since 1910.

Her marriage to Mr. Cook took place in Manistique in August, 1909.

She was a member of St. Joseph's Church and its Guild in Gould City.

Surviving are her husband; two sons, Francis of Gould City, and Bernard of Iron Mountain; one daughter, Mrs. Robert (Catherine) Brawley of Gould City; one brother, John Gharrett of Sault Ste. Marie; and four grandchildren.

Broker Speaks To Lions Club

Frank Asselin of Kingsford, stock broker with Lowell Hoy Securities Co. of Chicago, had the Escanaba Lions Club chuckling Monday night with his waggish, but wise, advice about investing money in the stock market.

"If you can do exactly opposite of what everybody else is doing you'll make money," Asselin laughed. "The more education you've got in the stock market the worse off you're going to be."

"People looking into investment often get overloaded with information which serves only to bewilder and confuse them," Asselin explained. "I prefer to keep investment practices simple for the average guy, considering only the basic information."

Asselin cited the example of a rural Upper Peninsula man with only a fourth grade education.

The man had 100 shares of stock he bought for $3.37 per share. He didn't know what to do with it so he held onto it. Today that stock is worth thousands of dollars.

Asselin said that surveys show that 90 per cent of the nation's high school and college graduates don't know anything about how our capitalistic system works. He said, for example, people don't realize it takes about $17,000 worth of investment for each worker employed at Mead Corp. here.

To help correct this, Asselin proposed a four-session investment "investment forum" for persons interested in the stock market. He said the course could be sponsored by a service club with any profits going to service club projects.

Little Appalachia

Senators Hart and McNamara have introduced in the Senate and Congressman Clevenger in the House a bill to create a Great Lakes States Authority eligible for $10 million in federal War on Poverty funds for economic development.

Senator Hart tried to tack such a bill on the Appalachia economic rescue effort, but President Johnson asked no riders. He indicated that the White House would look favorably on the series of "Little Appalachia" projects being proposed if they weren't pressed as piggyback riders on the Appalachia bill.

(Appalachia is the 11 state area in the southeastern United States which has been economically depressed. It is to be a model for the national government's effort to stimulate the economies of backward areas of the nation.)

The Appalachia project approach is a new one. While the federal government is proposing to supply most of the cash, the local areas to be benefitted are expected to supply the projects and initiative.

Jerald Ter Horst in "No More Pork Barrel" in The Reporter suggests "the Appalachia redevelopment program may be the forerunner of a new era in federal public works spending."

Similar programs being proposed for the Upper Great Lakes Area (Upper Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota), the Ozarks and New England propose that federal spending for area development be concentrated instead of administered with a scattergun. Basically the proposal coming out of the Appalachia effort would have states and counties telling Washington where and how to spend federal money to create economic and social uplift in an area.

Federal money would go to a region, not to impoverished people. It wouldn't necessarily go to the neediest towns or counties, either, but to those which could do most with it for the area.

The new concept about how to create area development didn't originate in Washington but with a group of state governors in 1950. Appalachia area governors prevailed on President Kennedy to create the Appalachian Regional Commission in 1963. Something of the same sort was urged on President Kennedy at the Duluth Land and People Conference in 1963, which created the Northern Great Lakes Resource Development Committee.

It is to implement planning by this group that Messrs. Hart, McNamara and Clevenger are urging Congress to enact a regional economic assistance act.

At first glance, writes Ter Horst, "the Appalachia program appears to be the usual grab bag of projects—new roads, soil improvement and erosion control, hospitals, vocational schooling, sewerage works, fish and wildlife projects, strip mine reclamation—intended to help Appalachia catch up with the rest of the nation."

But closer examination shows shift of emphasis, with the federal government delegating a major share of the decision-making to the states. While the actual operation of aid projects would be under the appropriate federal agencies, the supervision and coordination of the whole Appalachia program would be vested in the Appalachian Regional Commission, composed of the governor of each participating state and one federal representative named by the President. Decisions would be by majority vote of state members with veto power by the federal representative. State members could counter vetoes by withholding their votes.

This is a historic change in bureaucratic thinking in Washington, as Congress has been unwilling to appropriate money without having control over spending. It is a minor miracle to find both congressmen and bureaucrats willing to relinquish some of their authority to give a new concept of area development a trial.

A continuing controversy in the Appalachia program that will have its counterpart in the Great Lakes Authority is the heavy emphasis on roadbuilding. Not all economic and social planners agree on the priority on roads. Some say education should get top priority, but the governors, senators and representatives of the Appalachia states want the priority on roads and so do the planning experts of the committee. They say the problems of an area of 167,000 square miles with 16 million population can't be solved by out-migration, but only by development.

States and communities with a low tax base haven't been able to build auxiliary and access highways. So $840 million—or 76 per cent—of Appalachia's $1.1 billion price tag, is for roadbuilding in a 5 year period. Similarly, the greatest stimulation for U. P. tourism would come from a scenic highway along the south shore of Lake Superior, but the Michigan State Highway Department says it has no funds in the foreseeable future for such a highway.

Prospects for such a road look brighter with the Regional Economic Assistance Act.

The Doctor Says:

Avoid Poisonous Fish

Q—My family eats pompano, sea bass and snapper regularly. As a result of your article on poisonous fish we are worried. What precautions should we take? And what about tuna, bonito and skipjack?

A—I did not include pompano in the list of tropical and subtropical salt water fish that have been known to cause poisoning. In eating any fish it is wise to eat as little of the skin as possible. When ever there is any reason to doubt the harmlessness of the fish you plan to eat, it will help to prepare thin fillets, boil them in water and discard the water.

Tuna, bonito and skipjack are safe if canned or if frozen immediately after they are caught and not thawed until they are to be cooked. If fish of these three types have a sharp peppery taste they should not be eaten.

Q—I have a terrible itching under my arms in hot weather. What can I do for this?

A—Check with your doctor to determine whether or not you have a fungus infection in this region. If you have, he will prescribe something to re-clean and dry the area by frequent shaving and the daily use of an antiperspirant. These preparations will not help unless they are used daily.

Q—What is formication and what causes it?

A—Formication is the sensation of insects crawling on your skin when there are none there. It is derived from the Latin formica (ant). Some people have this sensation whenever they wear woolen underwear. Others have it especially in the winter when they undress. The sensation is closely related to itching and is usually relieved by gently rubbing—not scratching—the area.

Q—What causes Landry's paralysis? What can be done for it?

A—Although the cause of Landry's paralysis is unknown, it often starts a week or two following an upper respiratory

DEER SURVIVAL

Concentration instead of starvation would be the better word for our deer problem. We remedy starvation by harvest. What can be done about concentration?

I recently recommended burning off grass areas as a help to give deer a start in the early spring.

The majority of the deer of the Kimberly-Clark area, of which I was speaking, moved on to a burn of the Blacks Rapids on the Whitefish. The deer picked up rapidly, thrived well and produced a good crop of fawns with no visible effects.

The results indicated the best hunting on the Whitefish Plains above Bills Creek in many years.

I had more deer in the coolers, taken there, than on the Stonington Peninsula. The same reports came to me from the burn area carried out by the Forest Service on the northern part of the Stonington Peninsula. A good many of these deer moved up out of the farming areas. This proves that a new burn will not only help the deer to recover in the spring, but will also encourage them to migrate.

The Kimberly Clark area where these deer wintered had poor hunting. Many of the surviving deer that have been dispersed will winter elsewhere.

COOPERATIVE BURNING

We had had dead deer in the past and are going to have them in the future. Harvesting the breeding stock is not going to solve the problem. We have too many areas in our forest where hunters can travel for days without seeing a deer, or signs. These areas used to provide deer hunting. They will today if deer can be transferred there.

Cooperative burning by the Forest Service and Conservation Department in step patterns would encourage deer to migrate for miles. Deer will scent burn for miles and take to them just as readily as a farmer's field.

Many other experiments are carried out. Wouldn't burns be worth a try?

COMIES

Regarding the news article "U. S. Must Take Firm Stand With Soviets: Dirksen," which also includes remarks by Senator Fulbright, Democrat. In dealing with the U. S. and Russian relations and communism in general the stand that the senator takes is certainly subject to debate.

He makes his stand clear on two points: His dissatisfaction in our policy and his sympathetic attitude toward the Soviets. In support of this sympathetic attitude he enumerates various human attributes to the Soviets, such as: "Communists are human beings, with many of the same sympathies and prejudices we have."

That's making a good case for the communists on humane grounds, but for reasons known only to himself, Fulbright overlooks and passes over the focal points in the communist creed: The destruction of the free world. Here is the trouble spot concerning communism, and if Fulbright has half the intelligence that his high government position calls for, this fact should be more than evident to him. If not, then by all odds he is a square peg in a round hole.

What My Faith Means To Me

By JACK P. MAGNUSEN
First Presbyterian Church
Escanaba

What does my faith mean to me? It means that I can obtain salvation merely by accepting God's promise of eternal life through the sacrifice of His only son, Jesus Christ. It means I am privileged to accept God's other gifts to mankind.

As a Christian I believe God made the world for all people of all faiths to live in love and peace.

Through the teachings of Jesus He showed us the way of righteousness. Through His love He showed us how to love. Through Moses He gave us the Ten Commandments to live by.

Through our churches He gave us a place to worship and to foster Christian unity. Through our ministers He gave us spiritual leaders to teach and guide us in the ways of God. Through ourselves he

Today In History

Today is Tuesday, April 6, the 96th day of 1965. There are 269 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1917, just after 3 a.m. the House approved a resolution declaring war on Germany. Passed earlier by the Senate, the declaration was signed by President Woodrow Wilson in the White House at 12:30 p.m.

On this date In 1830, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints—the Mormon Church—was organized at Fayette, N.Y.

In 1893, the longest bout in sports history was fought in New Orleans by Andy Bowen and Jack Burke. Referee Jack Diffytopped the fight in the 110th round and declared it to be no contest.

In 1909, Robert Peary, with Matt Henson and four Eskimos, reached the North Pole. Peary planted the American flag at the spot sought by explorers for almost a century.

In 1941, Nazi armies started their invasion of Greece and Yugoslavia.

In 1942, Japanese troops landed on the Island of Bougainville.

Ten years ago—The Air Force chief of staff, Gen. Nathan Twining, told senators that Communist air power was a threat to U.S. security.

Five years ago—President Alberto Lleras Canargo of Colombia addressed a joint session of Congress in Washington.

One year ago—Byron De La Beckwith went on trial in Jackson, Miss., for the second time on charges of murder in the death of civil rights leader Medgar Evers.

Dear Ann Landers: For the first time in two years I have found peace of mind. I want to share it with you.

I was one of those foolish women who felt my husband didn't appreciate me, so I wanted. My sweetheart was married, too, but his wife was not well. (Are they ever?) He assured me that when she was stronger and able to accept the blow he would ask for a divorce and we would be married.

Suddenly his wife died of a heart attack. This put him in an embarrassing position—one which he did not expect. I am sure He told me he could not ask me to leave my husband and that I should forget him.

His wife has been dead less than three months and already he has been seen snoring two rich widows and a loaded divorcee. I would like to warn these women to listen for the following phrases: "How sad that we did not meet years ago. We could have had a beautiful life together." Or this one: "I would know your hands anywhere—just by the touch."

And of course: "This is the most extraordinary thing that has ever happened to me. It's like a novel."

So beware girls. That a Dreamboat could be the Heel.—BURNED AND CURED

Dear B and C: And I hope you will take your own good advice, Petunia. Lonely women have a tendency to repeat the same sorry mistakes.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a boy who will soon be 17 years old. I was fed up arguing every time I wanted a couple of bucks so I got myself a job after school and on weekends. This has cut me out of a lot of social activity, but it is worth it, because I don't have to beg any more.

Now I have another problem. My dad thinks he ought to tell me how to spend my money. I think I should be able to spend my money on anything I want. Right now I'm ready to pack my gear and move out of the house. I decided to write to you first and listen to what you have to say.—MITCHELL

Dear Mitch: I'd like to suggest a compromise. I don't know how much money you are earning but if you will open a savings account and put away half of it you should be allowed to spend the other

Citizens Force 3 Year Contract Offer To Peters

RAPID RIVER—The Rapid River School District Board of Education faced a critical audience of more than 120 citizens in the elementary school gym Monday night and changed its mind about the contract offered its school superintendent.

A dramatic confrontation of the board by citizens headed by Supervisor Harold Gustafson of Ensign, housewives and former board members and by Superintendent Walter Peters and Principal Norman Slough resulted in a recess in which the board of education reconsidered its action of a month ago offering a one-year contract to Peters, who had previously held three-year contracts, and a one-year contract to Slough, who had previously held one-year contracts.

Both school administrators said that they would stay on after the board's final action, although Peters had asked for appointment of a citizens committee of 5 persons "to watch the machinations" of Board President Ernest M. Vanderhoff, oil company executive, and Slough had said that he would stay on only if offered a three year contract as principal.

Board Action
The trouble was triggered a month ago when the board of education discussed contracts for its administrators and rejected another three-year contract for Peters, who has been superintendent of the consolidated school district for 16 years. It embraces Ensign, Bay de Noc and Masonville townships.

Slough has been principal for 18 years.

Reading of the minutes of the last meeting revealed the defeat of a motion to renew Peters' contract for three years and grant a $300 salary increment.

Voting Yes were board members Mrs. Florence Holmgren, secretary; Mrs. Milton Bonz, treasurer; both of Rapid River, and Urban Hebert of Ensign.

Voting No were Ernest Vanderhoff, Rapid River, president; Anthony Purzol, Stonington; Lloyd Stenlund and Raymond Sundquist, Rapid River.

Wave of Rumors
There followed a motion to offer Peters a one-year contract at $9,550 and it carried unanimously. It was then proposed that Slough be offered a one year contract with $300 salary increment and this carried unanimously.

This action set off a wave of rumors in the school district that both administrators were to be released. The minutes, as reported, indicated that there had been discussion "that Peters has been here too long" and suggestion that his job should be put up for bids.

Community reaction was lively but not publicly vocal. School administrators and board members declined comment for publication and several persons who called President Vanderhoff were counseled to attend the next board of education meeting. More than 120 appeared at the meeting, which usually doesn't attract a half dozen. The reaction indicated some persons supported the board position, but that the meeting was generally in support of Peters and Slough and demanding of an explanation of what was going on.

After Bus Repairs

The board discussed routine matters like bus repair at last night's session and it appeared that it might adjourn without opening the Pandora's box of citizen complaint, even after Mrs. Ray Phillips of Gladstone, a teacher and president of the Rapid River Michigan Education Association Chapter said that the teachers gave their vote of confidence to Peters and Slough and Peters said that the teachers had refused to return their 1965-66 contracts to the school district until the board's action (on the Peters and Slough contracts) was reconsidered.

Supervisor Harold Gustafson lit the first firecracker by saying that the board had "wrecked the image of the school district" by refusing to give three-year contracts to Peters and Slough.

"The minutes show that the superintendent's job was to be offered on bids. I have never heard such a thing as that our board should consider this in filling the job of superintendent. It is deplorable to think that all these two men can be offered for all this progress is one year contracts. I would like to see the board reconsider and offer three year contracts."

It was explained that Slough had never had a three-year contract.

Three Year Contracts
Mrs. Lee Beek asked an explanation of the board's reasons for its actions but got none. Purzol said it was an executive matter, like consideration of teacher salaries.

Hugo Brannstrom, former board member, said "there must be a reason for not granting a three-year contract. Now we have no (announced) reason so there must be no reason." Brannstrom was applauded.

Mrs. George Wilbee said "Mr. Vanderhoff said not to discuss it over the phone, to come to the meeting. I have not always seen eye-to-eye with Mr. Peters or Norm (Slough) but what's wrong with a three-year contract?"

"Tradition (of three-year contracts) is a very fine thing," said Vanderhoff, "but we complied with the state stipulations and I can't see why the board should be put in jeopardy because it offered one-year instead of three."

"Albert Whybrew, farm leader, said 'We put you in there to do what you see fit and I think you did what you thought right and that those who criticize you have a purpose that doesn't show on the surface."

Slough in an emotional speech of great vigor told of his coming to Rapid River and working with its youth. When he attended the recent state basketball tournament downstate, he said, he met friends in education who told him his job was under fire and had been offered to others, and Peters' too. "I was hurt and hurt terribly. I thank you for being here tonight. I disciplined kids who needed it and if you disagreed with me my door was always open.

"I cannot stay on without a three-year contract. I like Rapid River, but if every time I walk down the street it is to be hurt, my happiness means too much to me. Let's not worry about how much for floor wax, but about getting something in to the heads of the kids. What some high school kid or parents said to some board member—that's our agenda. It should go through channels.

"No student has spoken to me rudely because my job is in jeopardy. They all went about their business. They are ladies and gentlemen," Slough was applauded.

Peters said "the only thing that can get me back to this institution next year after the knife in the back and the attitude that 'you lick my boots' is that five citizens be appointed to watch the machinations of that man (President Vanderhoff) until the end of my years in office."

Clifford Malnor, said "Walter Peters lied to me and played one board member off against the others. Every member of the board said you (Peters) weren't following the orders of the board."

Mrs. Holmgren denied this. She said Peters, with the lowest millage had kept the schools "in the black" and sent an average number of kids to college. "I don't like everything he does, but the important thing is what he is doing for the child."

Betty Majestic, a graduate two years ago, deplored criticisms of the schools.

When the board appeared about to adjourn Slough asked for an answer and the executive session followed for an hour while the large audience waited.

Altrusa Club Is Presenting Film Lecture

The third and final presentation in the Altrusa Club's film series on "The Humanities" will be presented Thursday, April 8, at 7:30 p.m. in Escanaba Area High School Auditorium. The topic for this three-film lecture will be "Art." The two previous subjects were "The Novel" and "The Theatre."

The proceeds realized from Altrusa's sponsorship of the film series go toward the support of the service club's many local projects, such as college scholarships, "Friends of the Library," school milk program, Senior Citizens Drop-In Center and the hospital book cart.

Anyone wishing to attend the "Art" films, who has not held the season ticket may purchase a single admission at the door. The north court entrance of the high school is to be used.

Annual Tea Is Successful Spring Event

"A Time of Promise" was the theme of the annual Spring Tea, held Saturday afternoon in Westminster Hall of First United Presbyterian Church under the sponsorship of the Women's Association.

The tea attracted an attendance of over 120 and the customary bake sale, held in the church basement, was well patronized.

Decorations featured spring blossoms in shades ranging from pale pink to deep rose. The tea table was centered with an arrangement of yellow and white snapdragons, lavender gladiolus and marigolds, with candelabra holding pale yellow tapers.

Presiding at the silver services were Mrs. George Bonefeld, Mrs. Marvin Pearson, Mrs. Clifton Reno and Mrs. Elvora Vader.

The program, "A Recital in Verse," was beautifully arranged and presented by Mrs. Karl E. Gray. Music of the Escanaba String Ensemble, Mae Brazeau, Kathy Hockstad, Clara Embs, Chris Gafner, Helen Moore, Dudley Beck, Jack Foster and Arol Beck, complemented the program.

Mrs. Marvin Pearson, president of the Women's Association, welcomed the guests.

Mrs. William DeHaan was general chairman.

Jurors Excused Temporarily In Court Session

The application for a delayed motion for new trial by Leonard H. Lundberg, in a first degree murder conviction has been continued in Circuit Court to April 19.

The continuance was moved in court Monday to permit officials opportunity to study the lengthy document Lundberg has filed. He is imprisoned in the slaying of Patricia Burdick, Grand Marais school teacher.

Jurors for the court term have been temporarily dismissed.

In other actions Judge George S. Baldwin granted judgment of $7212.50 to the State Savings Bank against Roy Zimmerman, and $1394.93 to Montgomery Ward and Co. vs. Harry Hastings. Costs were assessed to defendants in both.

A divorce was granted to Sallie from Phillip Freeland.

Charles R. Marks, Freemont was sentenced to serve 90 days in jail or until he pays fine of $300 and costs of $50 in a friend of the court action concerning a divorce.

Baptist Church Dedicates Gifts

The 83rd anniversary of First Baptist Church was marked at services Sunday. Members with 10 to 50 years with the church were honored.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fox, 96, now in a Gladstone convalescent home, is the oldest member.

During the services a new public address system was dedicated. It is a memorial for the late Mrs. Harry Secore and Vernon Linderth. Also dedicated were 100 new chairs and 17 tables purchased from the memorial fund.

Patrick Fackety sang a vocal solo accompanied by Mrs. Maurice Fagan in the service.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Thomas, Rte. 1, are the parents of a daughter, born April 4 at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. The baby weighed 6 pounds 14 1/4 ounces. Mrs. Thomas is the former Frances Wolfe.

A son, weighing 7 pounds 13 1/4 ounces was born April 5th, to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Farley, 629 Deer St. The mother is the former Harriet Gauthier.

Safety Patrol Queen Chosen

Diane Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Witter Reid was elected safety patrol queen at the annual party Sunday sponsored by the VFW in recognition of accomplishments of the patrols.

Members of Queen Diane's court are Kathy Danko, Mary Cockram, Julie DeSautel and Kayn Bignall.

The Queen who received her crown from Post Commander, Ralph Deloria, and her court were presented gifts from the VFW.

Games and contests were held with prizes awarded Gloria Hinkson, Patti Schutter, Debra Stevens, Pauline Hoholik, John Adams, David Anderson and Robert Smith.

Lunch was served by a committee headed by Mrs. Leah Deloria and Mrs. Virginia Adams.

Sorority Meets

Mrs. Vert Guidebeck and Miss Evelyn Berwin attended the Delta Kappa Gamma meeting in Escanaba Saturday.

Student teachers from Northern Michigan University spoke to the group on the block plan of intern and on experiences as student teachers.

The next meeting of the educational society will be held in Maistique May 1.

Inlanders Retire

Three employees have retired from Inland Lime and Stone Co. They are Joseph Cherneski, assistant general mill foreman with the firm since 1926; Ross Klagstad, Rte. 1, a building repair leader with the firm since 1948 and William A. Hobson, Gulliver, production truck driver who had been with the firm since 1942.

Voters Approve Charter Issue

In one of the lightest turnouts in recent election history, Gladstone voters approved election of a nine-member charter revision commission to draft a new governing document for the city.

Vote on the charter-revision question was: "Yes" 169; "No" 57.

Total vote of 232 was less than 10 per cent of the city's 2,427 registered voters.

Voters also elected Raymond Norton and Gene Kee to three-year terms on the City Commission and A. J. Mortier to his second four-year term as Justice of the Peace. All were running unopposed.

Norton collected 217 votes, Kee got 205 and Mortier was given 202.

The charter revision question passed all precincts. Totals were: Precinct One — Yes 35, No 12; Precinct Two — Yes 61, No 11; Precinct Three — Yes 33, No 15; Precinct Four — Yes 40, No 19.

In the city commission election the voting was as follows: Precinct One — Norton 46, Kee 41; Precinct Two — Norton 70, Kee 65; Precinct Three — Norton 46, Kee 46; Precinct Four — Norton 55, Kee 53.

Mortier's votes by precinct were: No. 1 — 39; No. 2 — 68; No. 3 — 42; No. 4 — 53.

GLADSTONE New Gymnasium Plans Approved By School Board

The Gladstone Board of Education, looking ahead to the future, went on record Monday night in favor of building a new physical education plant and modernization of the high school's commercial department.

The new physical education building, including a 1,600 seat gymnasium for basketball, would require voter approval for financing. The commercial department changes proposed would be paid on a matching funds basis under a federal education program.

Supt. of Schools Wallace Cameron said the school board is aiming for a $250,000 price on the physical education unit. It would be constructed on the site of the old Central Building, north of the present plant.

Cameron said the proposal would be presented to the people as "soon as possible." He indicated that the election date could be before the School Board's spring election in June.

Long Needed

"We have needed this for a long time," Cameron said. "We'd like to get moving as soon as possible. We worked five years on the armory project and we would hate to miss another generation of students by delaying the gym project."

He said preliminary estimates indicate millage needed would be about one to one and a half mills over what school system taxpayers are currently paying. Financing term would probably be for 29 years.

"There's more involved than just basketball in this project," he said. "This would be for our entire health and physical education department."

Commercial department plans call for additional courses, new lighting, furniture and business machines with the idea of better preparing high school students to step right from school into positions in business.

Hold Salaries

Cameron said application for funds through the National Vocational Education Act would be made through the Michigan Dept. of Public Instruction, Lansing. He said there are no plans to ask for additional millage for this project.

In other business, the School Board decided to "hold the line" on the current teacher salary schedule for the first 10 years, but added two "half step increments" to the top of the schedule for teacher's having completed or currently teaching in their 11th or 12th years.

Cameron said the "half step increments" would affect a sizeable portion of the Gladstone faculty, about 80 per cent of which is already at top scale.

The "half step increments" would raise maximum salary for top scale teachers with a master's degree to $6,600 and for teacher's with bachelor's degrees to $6,300. Both figures are still below state and Upper Peninsula averages.

The Board also appointed an advisory committee to work with Bay de Noc Community college on an area vocational study. Names of committee members will be announced when acceptance of appointments have been confirmed.

Get Speaker

Cameron notified the Board that Dr. Al Loving, Detroit, an advisor on education to independent Nigeria of Africa, has been secured as speaker for high school commencement on June 3.

Changes in time schedules for next year were also discussed, but were not finalized pending reports from school personnel. The changes would establish six equal education periods and involve starting and ending classes a little earlier each day.

Currently, Gladstone has five equal class periods with a shorter non-academic session.

Cameron was authorized to study Operation Head-Start, a pre-kindergarten program backed by the federal government and initiated through UPCA in the Upper Peninsula, to see what part Gladstone could play in the program; library reports indicated a doubling of circulation were received; the 1965-66 budget was discussed; and Raymond Norton reported to the Board on the recent North Central Association meeting in Chicago.

Invite Public To Inspection

All phases of administrative equipment and maintenance of Company E, 107th Engineer Battalion, will be personally inspected by an officer from Fifth Army Headquarters, Chicago, at the Armory tonight.

Lt. Col. Harry Sandborn has been assigned as general inspector for the Battalion, and at this evening's training period all men will be inspected on military appearance, on weapons and on scheduled military subjects.

Capt. George C. Anderson, commander of Company E, said there will be three platoons of men in ranks at 7:30.

The commander of the local Guard unit invited all interested citizens to attend the annual inspection as guests of Company E. He said that he is certain those who attend will be impressed with the training program and equipment of the National Guard unit.

Also in attendance at this evening's training period will be Lt. Col. Austin Lindberg, commander of the 107th Engineer Battalion, and Capt. (Chaplain) A. Hasenberg, Capt. George Hansen and Capt. Thomas Kane, all members of his staff from Ishpeming.

Lt. Raymond Abrahamson, Gladstone Rte. 1, will be in command of the unit's 50-man Bridge platoon.

Instruction for the evening will be on the floating bridge site selection, with Sgts. Ivan Gagne of Powers, and Eldred Sattm of Escanaba in charge. A recruit class will be held for newer men with SP4 William Smith of Cornell in charge.

Chaplin Spurns His Eldest Son, Now On Relief

LONDON (AP) —Arriving in London Sunday night, Charlie Chaplin and his wife turned a cold shoulder to their eldest son, Michael, 18, his wife, 25-year-old actress Pay Johns, and their child.

Mrs. Chaplin told newsmen her son "should get a job and go to work."

It was learned last week that Michael's family is receiving $28 a week in national assistance, although the elder Chaplin is a multimillionaire.

Seniors Stage Rotary Talks

Three High School seniors presented a program on tuberculosis at the regular meeting of the Gladstone Rotary Club Monday noon at the Yacht Club.

Carol Ivory, David Moberg and Mike Belongie were selected from their English 12 class to represent the High School in the 1965 School TB Speaking Project sponsored by Women's Auxiliary to the Michigan State Medical Society and the Christmas Seal Agency.

Miss Ivory spoke on the smoking issue which must be dealt with by High School seniors, and its effect on the respiratory system. David Moberg explained the current prevalence of TB today where many people had felt the disease had been conquered. Mike Belongie's talk concerned the effects of tobacco in this area.

The prepared radio talks of these three seniors have been sent to Lansing and will be judged in state competition. Six winners will be chosen from the state and they will present their talks on a Lansing radio station.

Guests of the club were Art Moberg, Richard Reinhart and John Lemmer of Escanaba. Student guests were John Richards and Nathan Sloan.

BOWLING — The Stonehouse of Escanaba captured first place money of $100 in the Upper Peninsula Elks Bowling tournament at Hancock with 3021 pins. . . . Members of the team are Spar Segar, Fritz Breitenbach, Jack Kivela, Bill Durkin and Waino Nurmi. . . . Durkin and Kivela teamed up for a 1268 score, good for third in the doubles division and Kivela was 12th in the singles list with a 643 series.

PLUMS — Michigan State plucked some prize plums from the Upper Peninsula football tree this week, signing Eugene Fregotto of Holy Name. Dick Berlinski and Dwight Romagnoli of Kingsford. . . . Berlinski has a fantastic sports record at Kingsford where he has earned 14 letters and will add two more this spring in track and baseball. . . . He set an all-time season football scoring record with 194 points last fall and is the U. P. Class A-B broad jump champion with a leap of 21 feet 1 1/2 inches, set as a sophomore in 1963. . . . He scored 933 points in a four year varsity basketball career. . . . In addition he is an A student.

Stan Albeck

COACH — One of the leading candidates being mentioned to succeed Fordy Anderson as head basketball coach at Michigan State University is Stan Albeck, personable mentor at Northern Michigan University. . . . Albeck certainly carries the proper credentials: He's an excellent recruiter, was an assistant at MSU, played for Anderson at Bradley and has turned in an impressive record of 133 victories against 53 defeats in his eight seasons at Northern. . . . Albeck will be the main speaker at the Gladstone Lions Club basketball recognition banquet Thursday night.

HIT — Big hit at the second annual Escanaba Coaches' Clinic held here last weekend was the talk on isometric exercises and preventive taping by Gildo Canale, Northern Michigan University trainer and assistant professor of physical education. . . . Canale's presentation was not only informative but highly entertaining. . . . He was booked for the summer coaching school at Wisconsin State University, Superior, by Merts Mortorelli, athletic director who attended the clinic at the Terrace.

VICTIM — Bill Olivanti, former Iron Mountain High School football star and brother of Dick Olivanti who is an assistant on the Eskymo grid coaching staff, was the victim of a serious beating recently while working as an undercover agent for the narcotics division of the United States Treasury Department. . . . Olivanti was slugged and beaten by thugs in a Chicago night spot. . . . He was serving as the chief enforcement officer on a major case in the Chicago area.

LETTERS — Coach John Bonk of Bessemer has awarded 10 varsity letters to members of his basketball team that has suffered through two straight winless campaigns — a string of 34 straight setbacks. . . . Included were three juniors and four sophomores. . . . John Backman of Escanaba, a former Bessemer football coach, is confident that the Speed Boy basketball fortunes will take a sharp swing upward with an outstanding crop of young athletes ready to move into the varsity picture in a few years.

LEADER — Early leader in the Green Bay Press Gazette bowling tournament, largest single entry individual handicap affair in Wisconsin with 4,000 expected to compete, is Bob Evans of Menominee who rolled a 601 series with an 82 pin handicap on the opening weekend. . . . Evans is a 6 foot 1 inch, 220 pound former tackle for the M-M Hornets of the old Wisconsin State Football League.

Snow On Field; Game Called Off

EAST LANSING (AP)—Snow on the baseball field has forced Michigan State to postpone its home baseball opener against Albion, originally scheduled for Thursday. Officials said it would be impossible to get the field in shape in time, but still hope to be ready for a scheduled doubleheader against Central Michigan Saturday. The MSU-Albion game was rescheduled for May 12.

Watch Out, Wings

Bobby Hull Is Healthy

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks will be banking heavily on a sudden healthy and surprisingly mean Bobby Hull when they resume their Stanley Cup series with the Detroit Red Wings tonight.

Having suffered two losses in Detroit in the best-of-7 semifinal series, the Hawks are now faced with the task of winning at home tonight and Thursday night or drop all hopes of advancing to the finals.

Hull, hampered by knee injuries in the second half of the season, has come on strong in the playoffs. He scored a goal and had two assists in last Thursday's 4-3 loss to the Wings.

Sunday night the Golden Jet pumped in two goals in a 6-3 loss and waylaid a couple of Wings who chose to hamper his efforts.

Larry Jeffrey and Doug Barkley were Hull's muscle victims. Jeffrey went after Hull in the second period of Sunday's game. Instead of merely brushing Jeffrey off with his usual brushing arm motion, Bobby put some zest into it and sent Jeffrey careening into the boards.

Coach Sid Abel said he would suit up Pit Martin and call up Bob Wall from the Memphis farm club to fill in for the two games in Chicago.

The Hawks weren't at top physical strength, either. Center Phil Esposito missed Sunday's game because of a muscle spasm in the back and his availability tonight is doubtful.

Defenseman Pierre Pilote is still bothered by an aching back but definitely will play.

Gump To Get Call In Goal

By The Associated Press
Gump Worsley, whose nest hour in National Hockey League goalie pads was ruined by Toronto's Red Kelly three years ago, will be the Montreal Canadiens' man of the hour tonight—thanks to a left-handed assist by the same Mr. Kelly.

It's the last bit of help the Gumper can expect from the red-thatched parliamentarian or his Maple Leaf playmates.

Worsley will be the Montreal goalie tonight when the Canadiens and Leafs reopen their Stanley Cup war on Toronto ice. The chubby veteran replaces regular Charlie Hodge, who suffered a painful groin injury when hit by a Kelly slap shot during the Canadiens' 3-1 second-game victory at Montreal last Saturday night.

Montreal takes a 2-0 advantage over the defending Cup champions into the third game of the best-of-7 semifinal playoff series. Thursday night's fourth game also will be played at Toronto and the Leafs will be satisfied with nothing less than a home-ice sweep.

The Chicago Black Hawks are in the same spot tonight as they open a two-game home stand against the high-flying Detroit Red Wings. The Wings, surprise winners of the regular-season NHL title, have taken the first two games of the semifinal set at Detroit.

Neither Worsley, Kelly nor Maple Leaf fans will forget Gump's last playoff visit to Toronto, in 1962 with New York. In the fifth game of that semifinal series—exactly three years ago Monday night—Worsley stopped 56 Toronto shots before Kelly's goal in the second sudden-death overtime period gave the Leafs a 3-2 decision.

The Leafs eliminated the Rangers and went on to capture the first of three straight Cup titles.

Piston Brass, Fordy, Talk

DETROIT (AP)—Ousted Michigan State University basketball coach Fordy Anderson met Monday with Detroit Pistons General Manager Don Watrick for what club officials described as a friendly talk.

Spokesmen for the National Basketball Association team said there was no discussion of a possible place with the team for Anderson.

Anderson was fired as head coach of the Spartans last week. The Spartans compiled a 1-13 Big Ten record in 1965.

Hoeft, Oyler On Sick List

COCOA, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers dropped their 13th game in 22 starts Monday and it's anybody's guess who will be with the club when they head north this weekend.

A combination of injuries and weak performance indicate the Tigers had better not send the roster to the printers for a while.

Rookie shortstop Ray Oyler learned Monday that the pulled muscle in his side is actually a cracked rib which will bench the youngster for the rest of the practice season.

The two-inning performance of right-hander Bruce Brubaker in Monday's 4-2 loss to the Houston Astros may have an effect on the young pitcher's summer plans.

The Astros' were held to just two hits through the seventh inning by Joe Sparma. Brubaker relieved in the eighth with the Tigers in the lead 2-1. At that point, if the game had been in Houston's new "indoor-outdoor" ballpark, the roof couldn't have fallen in faster.

Brubaker started off by hitting Joe Gaines and then walked Joe Morgan. An intentional walk to right fielder Rusty Staub filled the bases after a sacrifice fly. First sacker Chuck Harrison lined a double to center field, scoring two, and came home on a single by Bob Lillis.

Tiger runs came from a triple by Jim Northrup in the second and a lone home run by Gates Brown in the fifth. An unearned run in the ninth rounded out the scoring.

The best performance of the afternoon was Joe Sparma's. He gave up a double to Staub in the first and a round trip smash to Leon McFadden in the seventh.

The Monday medical report also carried the name of southpaw Billy Hoeft. A lump on his right elbow prevents Hoeft from straightening his arm and may hurt the veteran's chances of making the trip north.

Tempers Flare; Versailles Pays $300 Talk Tax

By The Associated Press
Sam Mele is glancing over his shoulder. Zoilo Versailles is peeking in his wallet and Billy Martin is just trying to look innocent. It all adds up to baseball's latest spring training squabble.

Versailles is $300 poorer today after taking on Manager Mele in a Minnesota dugout dispute while the Twins were being thrashed by the New York Mets 8-1 Monday. Mele had yanked his temperamental shortstop and accused him of not going all out on a bounce by Jim Hickman that brought in two Met runs.

When Zoilo got to the bench, Mele told him to sit down. That's where Martin, a Twin coach who is an old hand at feudin' and fussin', got into the act.

"I sit on the bench for Martin, not for you," Versailles barked. The shortstop was obviously referring to rumors that Martin might replace Mele unless the Twins can improve on last year's disappointing sixth-place finish.

"That will cost you $100," said Mele.

Zoilo wasn't finished though. "Make it $200," the shortstop snapped.

"All right, it's $200," said Mele.

"Why not $300?" asked Versailles.

"That's what it is," Mele replied. "Now get out behind the outfield and do some running."

Martin, in his first year as a coach with the Twins, was angry over getting involved in the spot, especially because of the rumors.

"Versailles shouldn't have said it. He did it in a fit of temper. I guess it was his way of getting back at Sam. He must have

Manistique Kegler Takes Singles Lead In Tourney

Harold (Buzz) Rodgers of Manistique has grabbed the lead in the singles division of the first Upper Peninsula Bowling Proprietors' Association Classic being rolled in Escanaba.

The Manistique kegler spilled a 625 series on games of 189, 222 and 214 and added 92 pins in handicap for a 717 tournament total.

The tournament, planned as an annual event in the Upper Peninsula, opened last weekend and will continue on weekends through May 2, at which time entries and competition will both be closed.

An entry of 100 teams, with 200 doubles and up to 400 singles, is anticipated in the tournament which is being staged for the first time this season. The team event is being rolled at the Holiday and the doubles and singles at the Bowlarama. Harold Krusic is tournament secretary.

Lakeview Lanes of Manistique is the team leader with 2874 pins.

Topping the doubles list to date are Francis Toti and Zig Guzowski of Iron River, with a 1276 score. Rodgers tops the all-events with 1885 pins. The big individual game of the opening weekend was a 259 singleton by Bob Pangrazzi of Iron River.

A prize melon of over $5,000 will be split among the tournament leaders with $600 going to the team champion, $250 to the doubles leader, $125 to the singles winner and $50 to the top man in all-events.

Casper Second In Money List

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Billy Casper has fattened his bank account considerably with unofficial tournament winnings.

Casper is ranked second on the Professional Golfers' Association list of top 10 money winners with $20,898. However, this is only about half of his total winnings so far this season.

Casper has won another $20,106 in tournaments not sponsored by the PGA for total earnings of $41,004.

Doug Sanders heads the list with official money of $29,157 and unofficial earnings of $3,357 for a total of $32,514.

Bob Charles is third with total earnings of $19,298. Sam Snead won $16,100 and Bruce Devlin $16,352.

West Hits 52 As Lakers Win

LOS ANGELES (AP)—On the strength of a brilliant effort by Jerry West, Los Angeles has taken a 2-0 lead over Baltimore in their best-of-7 series to decide the National Basketball Association's Western Division playoff championship.

West clicked for 52 points as the Lakers downed the Bullets 118-115 Monday night. In the first game on Saturday, the back-court whiz scored 49.

Bay De Noc Is Dartball Champ

Bay de Noc defeated White Birch for the Escanaba Tavern Dartball Association second half tournament trophy last night, winning the championship for the first time in five years.

Westwood Wins Tourney Title

Westwood Tavern won the Gladstone Men's Tavern League dartball tournament by sweeping all three games from Frank's in the finals played at Trenary.

Although not in contention for the league championship in either half in regular season play, Westwood also captured the first half tournament title.

In the consolation game, Idle Time Bar beat Verhamme's Arcadia Inn two of three. Fran Semasko won the tournament batting title with a .521 average.

National Forest Timber Sale

MANISTIQUE RANGER DISTRICT HARVEST AREA

Sealed bids will be received by the Forest Supervisor, U.S. Forest Service, Escanaba, Michigan, up to 2:00 P.M. (EST) May 7, 1965 and will be opened immediately thereafter for all live timber marked or designated for cutting, and all merchantable dead timber located on an area embracing about 1120 acres in Sections 1, 12 & 13, T41N, R17W, Michigan Meridian, Hiawatha National Forest. No bid less than the minimum rates shown below for each species and product will be considered. The estimated volumes and minimum acceptable rates are: 1120 cords of aspen pulpwood at $1.75 per rough cord; 325 cords of jack pine pulpwood at $3.15 per rough cord. The above rates include deposit for sale area betterment. Under certain conditions, the Forest Service may, upon execution of a written agreement with the purchaser, base stumpage charges on the scale of pulpwood by the receiving agency. A deposit of $100.00 in the form of a certified check, bank draft, cashier's check, or money order must accompany each bid to be applied on the purchase price, refunded or retained in part as liquidated damages according to conditions of sale. Bids submitted without the above form of deposit will require rejection of the bid as unresponsive. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Before bids are submitted, full information concerning the timber, the conditions of sale and the submission of bids should be obtained from the District Ranger, U.S. Forest Service, Manistique, Michigan, or from the Forest Supervisor, U.S. Forest Service, Escanaba, Michigan.

MANISTIQUE Job And Training Needs Discussed

Rotary Monday had a program on occupational education needs, and federal aid available through the Vocational Act, presented by E. L. Sell, associate professor of education at Northern Michigan University. The purpose of education is to prepare youngsters for their next step in life. Many students are not equipped to enter the world of work under present programming, he explained. The state has been allotted $4.3 million and of this about $300,000 will be coming to Upper Michigan. Applications for 420 projects have been approved. Total cost of those submitted was $20 million, of which local units supply half. Next year $7 million will be available and the following year, $8 million. A tri-county survey in Delta, Schoolcraft and Menominee counties will be made in the next few months, he said. Plans of business for expansion, data on graduates and problems they encountered, and comparative information on quality of preparation will be sought to better plan programs for the schools. Northern is interested not only in high school graduates, but adults, too. The goal is to have students keep in contact with the schools and colleges so their training can be advanced and upgraded as occupational needs change. A student, under this plan, could take a certain course, knowing he would have a job at its completion, and then be able after a few years to return to the education mainstream for improvement and re-training. Automation is reducing the number of jobs and, contrary to popular opinion, a compensating additional number of jobs to produce the automating machinery will not be created. Religion is important in life, and so is a job, with studies showing that maturation comes from jobs, and this even comes before marriage as a maturing experience, he said. High schools, community colleges and 4-year colleges have to provide more occupational preparation for the years ahead. Due to drastic changes in science and other fields of learning, it is not possible to tell what this training will need to be. Cluster-type training for crossing over to other occupations later will be needed, as today's youngsters will probably change jobs five times during their work careers, he said. There is no need to train for jobs becoming obsolete, he added. He stated he hoped the community would use more of the vocational education funds next year. The local district has received approval for two grants, of $12,000 and $8,000. The program was arranged by Keith Bundy. One Rotarian in the question period asked about laws which do not permit young people to work until they are "18 or 19," stating he has a number who ask him for odd jobs to earn spending money. Another questioned what the schools will teach, as it is not known what the needs will be, and cited that "taking out the blue collar workers," and efforts to train a "blacksmith for bookkeeping, when bookkeepers are no longer needed, has fired up educators."

Five Arrested In Picket Plot

DETROIT (AP)—Five persons were arrested on conspiracy warrants Monday in the picketing of a neighborhood market where a resident of the area was shot to death last night. Police said they were seeking 33 other persons, both men and women, on various charges, including illegal picketing of a place of business. Azzam's market, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Azzam, longtime owners of the business, has been the scene of picketing for some time. The market is situated in a mixed neighborhood. Wayne County Prosecutor A. Samuel B. Olsen said the picketing was designed to put the Assams out of business. Police say both whites and Negroes have been among the pickets. John Christian, 20, was shot and killed March 1 at the store in a dispute with Jacob Azzam, 27, son of the owners, over a small boy's theft of a piece of cake from the store. Olsen, exonerating the younger Azzam, called the shooting justifiable. He said Christian reportedly attacked Azzam with a knife. The arrested five all pleaded innocent and were released for examination April 15. The group included Mr. and Mrs. Comer J. Mc Neil Jr.; Ronald G. Buck, 20, of suburban Wayne; Samuel Washington, 54, and Willie J. Patterson.

Job Corps Will Give U.P. Youth Federal Money

Dr. Bruce Newling of Cornell University is on a unique mission to the Upper Peninsula. He is planning employment for young people whose employers won't have to worry about the payroll because it will be paid by the federal government.

Dr. Newling was brought to the Upper Peninsula by Dr. E. V. Bowden, executive director of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress, to work with Northern Michigan University, Michigan Tech and Bay de Noc Community College on the Youth Corps program of the War on Poverty.

This is a phase of the national program under the Economic Opportunity Act which is not yet operative in the Upper Peninsula. It is just getting going with UPCA's assistance.

British-born Dr. Newling, is an economic geographer. He is a visiting professor at Cornell in the Department of City and Regional Planning. He was at the University of Pittsburgh last year as a research associate at the Center for Regional Economic Studies working on population projections for the City of Pittsburgh's community renewal program. In the fall he goes to Rutgers University, where he will be teaching in the Geography Department.

Boys And Girls
The Neighborhood Youth Corps, explains Dr. Newling, is designed to provide employment for young people 16 through 21, who are either in school or out of school. To be eligible they must be unemployed and from economically disadvantaged families.

"We have some broad estimates of how many such young people there may be in the area," said Dr. Newling. "In the first run-through we don't expect to catch all the eligibles, but as we get the thing going we hope that the program will expand to meet needs."

"Northern Michigan University will sponsor the program in the counties of Marquette, Alger, Dickinson and Iron. Michigan Tech has Keweenaw, Houghton, Baraga, Ontonagon and Gogebic, and Tech's Sault Branch has Chippewa, Mackinac and Luce. Bay de Noc Community College of Escanaba will serve Menominee, Delta and Schoolcraft counties."

The planners expect to involve about 130 young people in the Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft district; Northern's four county region is expected to produce about 180, Tech about 320 in both districts.

The jobs envisioned for the young people in the Youth Corps cannot be in private industry; they must be in non-profit organizations or in government agencies because of the federal financing of the project. They cannot open jobs by pushing employed persons out of jobs.

Dr. Bruce Newling

School system jobs, for instance, will include teacher aides, library assistant, stores clerk helper, maintenance man helper, janitor helper, telephone operator, bus boy, kitchen helper, cafeteria counterperson, etc.

Hospital jobs can include clothes room worker, diet clerk aide, medical service guard, hospital guide, maid, messenger, nurse aid, orderly, etc.

The project plans to use school counselors, churches, Extension Service agents, youth organizations to identify eligible enrollees. The enrollees will then be invited to apply for jobs in the Neighborhood Youth Corps. Services of the Michigan Employment Service Commission will be used to interview the applicants and after screening they will be assigned to jobs in their home areas.

Wage Scale $1.25
The federal government wants them to be paid $1.25 an hour, the minimum national wage. Dr. Newling says it is feared that this may cause a furor among employers who are paying less than this at present for experienced workers in the same categories.

While it will be $1.25 per working hour the Youth Corps enrollees will be required to participate in counseling sessions for which they will not be paid and this will reduce their overall income to less than $1.25 an hour spent in the corps program.

The government stresses that many if not all these youths will not have had employment opportunities before and the aim is to give them a chance to earn a little money and stimulate them to become permanent members of the labor market. The general impression is, said Dr. Newling, that there

Death Claims E. T. Lundstrom

MANISTIQUE — Elmer T. Lundstrom, 69 of 203 Arbutus Ave., retired Manistique auto dealer, died at 10:30 p. m. Monday in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. He had been a patient since Thursday.

Mr. Lundstrom was born in Manistique July 31, 1895, and was graduated from Manistique High School in 1914 as valedictorian of his class. Immediately afterwards he entered the livery business with his father, the late Charles Lundstrom.

A short time later he entered the automobile business and was a dealer here for 45 years, handling General Motors and Chrysler products. From 1938 to 1960 he was the Chevrolet dealer in Ishpeming and Neegaunee as well as Manistique. He retired in 1960.

During World War I he served in the Army from March 30, 1918, to July 30, 1919 and was in France for 13 months. Mr. Lundstrom was a charter member of the American Legion and the WWI Barracks here. For a number of years he served on the Manistique school Board and was a past president of the board. He also was active in the Manistique Elks Lodge 632, of which he is an honorary life member, and Masonic Lodge 371 with which he has a life membership in the Commandery.

His marriage took place in Milwaukee Sept. 8, 1921. His wife, the former Lucille Campbell, survives along with four children, Mrs. William (Dorothy) Bays of Newberry; Mrs. R. M. (Patricia) Davis of Garland, Tex.; Mrs. John (Gail) Morrow, Cleveland, Ohio; Charles of Grand Rapids; 13 grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Donald Goddard of Houghton Lake, Mich.

Funeral services will be conducted in Messier-Brouillere Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Thursday with the Rev. William Farnham officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 p. m. Wednesday. Veterans have been asked to meet at the funeral home at 9 p. m. Wednesday for memorial services.

Edick Speaks To Kiwanians

Provide a "cause" to challenge young people and you have taken a major step in abolishing the "youth problem", Escanaba Kiwanis Club members were told Monday by Edward Edick, retired local educator who was identified with the school system in Escanaba for over 35 years.

"I'm not one of those who deplore the youth of today", Edick said. "They're doing more than you and I ever could. It is the young people who are running things today."

Communities and civic organizations have a great opportunity to help guide the undecided student into fields of service that will take advantage of their energy and talents, the speaker declared. They want to be identified with a cause, and the community has failed somewhere if nothing is offered to prevent dropouts becoming a group by themselves, accepting their lot as "have-nots". Edick mentioned the Kiwanis Key Club organization as one of the movements aimed at the youths who are seeking a "cause" with new interests to keep them interested in their home community.

"I have always been grateful that I had an opportunity to work in a town such as this", Edick said.

He noted that comparisons with other schools had revealed that Escanaba students are above average, that attendance records are as high as 98 per cent, and that the holding power of local schools is over 80 per cent in reducing dropouts. Credit for this record must be shared jointly, he said, by the board of education, a strong Cross a Wildcat engine with a Buick Special, and what do you get?

A car with 9 lives and a very businesslike purr.

Why nine lives? You'll find that we build Buicks to last. That's one of the nice advantages Special has in store for you. As to that purr: you'll find it exciting to have a 210-hp. pet around the garage. Just say "scat," exert a slight pressure with the right foot, and it departs with stunning rapidity. If you're wondering how much one feeds a Special with a hood full of Wildcat V-8, remember that it won its class in the Mobil Economy Run last year. (Specials are friendly, as a rule, but they just don't seem to like gas pumps.) We won't tell you about the Special's lean good looks, its velvet ride, its docile handling, its pampering luxury. Take that up with your Buick dealer. (Also, ask him about an even wilder species we've developed: the Special with a 250-hp. Wildcat engine. And a little more grrr in its purr.)
